SUMMARY

Dr. Robin Ann Cantor is a managing director in Berkeley Research Group's Washington, DC, office. She has a Ph.D. in economics from Duke University and a B.S. in mathematics from Indiana University of Pennsylvania. Dr. Cantor has more than 30 years of experience in environmental, health, and energy economics, applied economics, statistics, risk management, and insurance claims analysis.

Before joining BRG, Dr. Cantor led practice groups at Exponent, Inc., and Navigant Consulting; and assisted companies and financial institutions with analysis to better understand environmental, health, and other product liability exposures. She has also acted as a principal and managing director of the Environmental and Insurance Claims Practice at LECG, LLC; and program director for Decision, Risk, and Management Sciences, a research program of the National Science Foundation; and held senior research appointments at Oak Ridge National Laboratory.

Dr. Cantor has a faculty appointment in the graduate part-time program in engineering of the Johns Hopkins University. She was president of the Society for Risk Analysis in 2002, and from 2001 to 2003 served as an appointed member of the Research Strategies Advisory Committee of the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency's Science Advisory Board. Dr. Cantor is a fellow of the Society for Risk Analysis and president of the Women's Council on Energy and the Environment. She also serves or has served on science review and advisory boards for the Climate Decision Making Center at Carnegie Mellon University, Johns Hopkins University's graduate part-time program in Environmental Engineering, Science, and Management, the National Center for Environmental Decision Making Research, Carnegie Council for Ethics in International Affairs, National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration, National Academy of Public Administration, and Center for International Earth Science Information Network.

Dr. Cantor's consulting practice focuses on economics at the interface of science and technology. Many of her projects involve science-based economic analysis used in litigation support, expert testimony, risk assessment, and other advisory services addressing energy, environmental, and health issues. Dr. Cantor's testimonial experience includes analysis of market share theories of product liability, fair market compensation in eminent domain matters, healthcare reimbursement, economic damages, product liability estimation in bankruptcy matters and insurance disputes, asbestos settlements, premises and product claims, cost contribution allocation in Superfund disputes, derailment risks, reliability of statistical models and estimation methods, and class certification issues.

Dr. Cantor has prepared expert reports that address economic issues in healthcare and energy markets, antitrust, commercial practices and contracts, intellectual property, employment discrimination, false advertising, regulation, and other areas of product and market analysis. Dr. Cantor has submitted analysis, testimony, and affidavits in federal arbitration, regulatory and Congressional proceedings, and state and federal courts. Her publications include refereed journal articles, book chapters, expert reports, reports for federal sponsors, a book on economic exchange under alternative institutional and resource conditions, and an edited book on product liability published by the American Bar Association.
